

Horror, Fright and Joy

Monsters and the Uncanny in and around Children's Literature and Media

Research seminar – May 3, 2018

1451/219 (Nobel Park) – 9:00-15:30 – open to all

Program:

- 9:00-9:15: Welcome and introduction
- 9:15-10:00: Cat Lester, Warwick (UK): “Viewer, Beware! You’re in for a Scare ...’ Cyclic Structures and Uncanny Aesthetics in the Children’s Horror Anthology Series”
- 10:00-10:45: Susanne Ylönen, Jyväskylä (FI): “Sublated Death: Mastering Fear in Zombie Picture Books”
- 11:00-11:45: Stine Liv Johansen, AU: “Creepy and Disgusting: YouTube as a Site for Children’s Play with Everything Gross”
- 11:45-12:30: Helle Strandgaard Jensen, AU: “Horror Comics and Texas Chain Saw Massacre: Scary Stories on the Edge of Public Debates about Children’s Media Consumption 1945-1985”
- 13:30-14:15: Mathias Clasen, AU: “Children, Monsters, and Horror: An Evolutionary Perspective”
- 14:15-15:00: Michael Kamp, writer: “The Joy of Fright”
- 15:00-15:30: Concluding discussion

Image © Joshua Hoffine. Used with permission.

Organized by Mathias Clasen (mc@cc.au.dk) and Nina Christensen (nc@cc.au.dk), sponsored by the research program in Literary Studies/School of Communication and Culture, Aarhus University