

---

OPEN LECTURE

---

Prof. Maria Tamboukou

University of East London, UK

Doing Archival Research

Tuesday, 30 October 2018

10:15 – 12:00 a.m. in the Nobel Auditorium

(Building 1482, room 105 – right next to the canteen)

What happens in the archive – and in research in general – when researchers engage in work with their sources? How are we influenced by time, space, and materialities in our research? And how can we think about the choices and interpretations we make as part of complex intra-actions and intra-relations?

Arranged by the Research Programme, Dep. of History and Classical Studies, and the Graduate School at the Faculty of Arts, Aarhus University

For more information, contact Assoc. prof. Charlotte Appel, chap@cas.au.dk